What is Human Trafficking?

- Human trafficking is a form of modern-day slavery. Victims of this are men, women, and children exploited both for labor and sexually.
- There are an estimated 27 million adults and 13 million children around the world who are victims of human trafficking.
- The FBI estimates that over 100,000 children and young women are trafficked in America today. They range in age from nine to 19, with the average being age 11. Many victims are not just runaways or abandoned, but are from “good” families who are coerced by clever traffickers.
- According to the U.S. State Department, human trafficking is one of the greatest human rights challenges of this century, both in the United States and around the world.

How can we help?

- Here is where we can partner with God in helping. This is a problem around the world, but also across the street.
- All of the proceeds from our Restoration Blend coffee sale will go directly into the hands of Restore Innocence.

Who is Restore Innocence?

- Restore Innocence is a faith-based organization whose passion is the cause of human trafficking in Colorado Springs. They reach out to the victims of this with a safe home to live, emotional support, and restoring their lives through the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The Cinderella House, is a safe-house specifically designed to help young women who are being rescued from their situation, by helping them physically, mentally, and emotionally.
